

A Conversation about Blacks & Jews in America

Friday, Feb. 20, 12:15-1:30 pm

IASH Conference Room, LN 1106

Holly Y. McGee

Associate Professor, University of Cincinnati

Historian of African American History, black women's activist and intellectual history, comparative political activism in the U.S. and South Africa. She is working on a book titled "The Troubles Between Us" on the relationships between black and Jewish people in American culture. She is also the author of One Day We Are Going Home: Radical Apartheid Internationalism and Exile in the Life of Elizabeth Mafeking (Catalyst Press, 2025).

Jonathan Karp

Professor, Binghamton University

Scholar of modern Jewish history and author of a forthcoming study of Blacks and Jews in the popular music business

Judaic Studies
Department

BINGHAMTON
UNIVERSITY
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

Religious Studies
Minor