

Binghamton University Celebrates Languages

The Translation Research and Instruction Program (TRIP) invites all students, faculty, and staff across campus to Bing Lang 26, Binghamton University's inaugural annual Language Fair.

The event will take place on from 11 a.m.-2 p.m. Wednesday, March 11, in University Union (UU) Room 108.

Binghamton University hosts a diverse language ecosystem as represented by this fair with information provided about Persian, Arabic, Latin, Turkish, Ancient Greek, German, Russian, Yiddish, Hebrew, Italian, French, Spanish, Chinese, Japanese, and Korean.

Organizations across campus will share their resources, experiences, and opportunities for language learning, building community, and professional development for those interested in developing their language skills and using them in personal and professional settings.

Participating organizations

Harpur Academic Advising

International Education and Global Initiatives \(IEGI\)

Harpur Advising will be available to assist students with language coursework, majors, and minors in their degree plans and provide information about the general education World Language requirement, along the Office of International Education & Global Initiatives (IEGI) about study abroad options.

Department of Middle Eastern and Ancient Mediterranean Studies \(MEAMS\)

Department of German and Russian Studies

Department of Judaic Studies

Department of Romance Languages and Literatures

Department of Asian and Asian American Studies \(DAAAS\)

Language departments and programs will share their course offering for Fall 2026 leading up to registration and information about degree options and language and culture classes.

Fleishman Career Center

Harpur Edge

The Fleishman Career Center will explain pathways for Binghamton students to explore and pursue careers that include language skills and find internships and jobs to use their language skills, and Harpur Edge will explain ways to find funding, a mentor, and other resources.

Turkish Culture Association \(TURCA\)

The Turkish Cultural Association will share their activities related to Turkish language and culture, inviting attendees to learn a Turkish word and how to pronounce it.

English Language Institute \(ELI\)

TESOL MA Program

The English Language Institute will provide information about academic English-language courses, programming, mentoring, and tutoring for professional and academic success, and the TESOL program will offer information for students and community members to explore language learning through hands-on teaching workshops, peer mentoring, and cultural exchange events.

Translation Research & Instruction Program \(TRIP\)

The Translation Research & Instruction Program (TRIP) will offer information about translator education for graduate and undergraduate students who want to use their language skills as a professional translator.

Contact Erin Riddle at eriddle@binghamton.edu, 607-777-6556, in the Translation Research and Instruction Program (TRIP) with any questions.